

Picnic Rule Revisions

Late adds for reservations have become a major problem. Apparently the $3 late fee is not a deterrent to prevent late adds so the late fee is being increased to $5. And starting with the May picnic, the deadline will be pulled ahead to 9 days before the picnic with an additional really late penalty of another $5 if payment isn't received by the Saturday before the picnic.

If you are sending in a check late, contact Dave so he knows it's coming and can order more food.

Tips to Avoid Late Fees

Mail your reservation form in EARLY. Don't wait until the last minute to see if you're on the "Who's Coming" list. Once you're on the list there is no need to check again, your name only comes off if you cancel. It is updated frequently and has a date which reflects checks received as of that date. See below as to why your check takes so long to get posted.

- Remember Marco to Marco mail goes through Ft. Myers or Tampa (and could take 5 days)
- Be aware of holidays
- Mail might not be delivered every business day
- Echecks – They are very slow. Even though some banks say they will be delivered in 5 business days, the last two Echecks took 9 days to arrive (7 business days)
- All reservation forms and money must be in Dave Walsh's hands by the deadline (just like the banks); a postmark (if there even is one) doesn't mean a thing.
